In accordance with that request, I have the honor to formally declare, and by virtue of a special authorization conferred upon me for that purpose by a Royal Resolution, that the Government of His Majesty the King of Denmark, in consideration of the great facilities of communication between Denmark and the Hawaiian Islands, gives its assent to the substitution of a term of six calendar months in place of twelve calendar months, as stipulated in the above named clause; and consequently state that now the said clause shall read as follows: "Any alteration in the duties levied on goods shall not take effect nor be enforced until six calendar months after the first public notification of such change." Receive, Mr. Minister, the reiterated assurance of my high consideration,

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 2. NOTES OF THE WEEK.

Interior Office, Sept. 30th, 1880

The trotting mare, Dolly Varden, took a spin around the town alone last night, but was finally captured by a police officer. Time, not taken.

It is entirely untrue that the proprietor of this journal had anything to do with the meeting of Hawaiian natives held at Kaumakapili on Monday evening, or that he was present on the occasion.

Credit is due to the ability of our townsman, Mr. Montana, the photographer, for the picture of her Majesty the Queen, which graces the Directory published by Mr. George Bowser, and it is an unintentional error that places the credit to Mr. Taber of San Francisco. D. Mamaki, whose arrest we referred to in last week's ADVERTISER, was brought before the District Justice at Lahaina on the 23d ult. and committed for trial before the District Court at its pext session. The accused failed to obtain Opium smokers who visit his Honor during the present dull season are allowed a slight discount from the old rates, fines of $50 being now mposed. The proximity of the rainy season also ncourages the compassion of his Honor to find vent in providing the erring ones with board, lodging and washing for the space of thirty days at the Government Hotel.

The following is the programme for the concert in Emma Square, at 4.30 P. M. to-day Slow March—Empress of India...... Overture—Bandit Tricks..... Trio—The Mountaineer.....

By permission of His Ex. Gov. Dominis, the Band will take its biennial vacation, lasting one month, the Band will resume service in November. due notice will be given. THE CHINESE QUESTION .- Twenty years before our San Francisco neighbors had discovered that Chinese Immigration had undesirable characteristics both in itself and in its effects on the labor market. British colonists in Australia had discussed its evils and taken stringent measures to abate them, and to stop the tide of Asiatic population then setting in upon them. Repressive measures however do not seem to have been altogether successful there, partly because the colonies have taken independent action and each has adopted a different system. The subject seems to have been forcing itself into notice again, and by last advices we learn that it is probable a conference of representatives of the several governments will shortly be held in Melbourne to discuss the question.

A HINT AS TO SUGAR BAGS .- The Levuka corres pondent of an Auckland paper gives the following information which may be of use here. If the palm referred to will flourish on Viti, it may succeed here, and repay an effort to introduce it. The

" The excellent bags, which at the present time imported from Madagascar; but the palm. from which the bag material is obtained, has been introduced into this country by the Hon. J. B. Thurston, and is thriving; so that, at no distant day, the bag manufacture will be undertaken on the spot. At such work the Fijians are very expert-witness their mats, baskets, &c .- and, with the proper material in their hands, there can be no question of their turning out a class of bags equal to that now in use."

Two attempts at incendiarism have occurred during the past week, the success of which might have led to serious consequences. On Sunday morning at half-past one, it was discovered that an attempt had been made to set fire to the premises of a Chinaman at the corner of King and Punchbowl streets. The contents of a bottle of oil had been poured on the verandah and a light set to the place. This was fortunately seen and put out at once. The attempt however was repeated on the morning of Thursday. Another corner of the verandah was chosen on this occasion and a serious fire was very nearly caused. By the time that it was discovered the fire had taken such hold that had there not been two buckets with water in them ready at hand, the place must have been consumed. The advantage of strict compliance with the fire regulations which require two buckets to be kept in a conspicuous place in each tenement in the city was demonstrated on this occasion in a very decided manner. The additional precaution also of keeping water in the buckets adopted by the occupant of the premises which had this narrow escape is worthy of imitation.

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

A German steamer is now on the way to this

Ho Chung with 263. The Gensina Brons has arrived port from Canton, China, laden with Orientals. Negotiations were also being entered into to charter the bark Carl Reuter and load with a like cargo. On Monday, 27th ult., a P. C. ADVERTISER EXTRA was issued and mailed per steamer City of

Sydney to all our foreign subscribers and to all foreign officials of this kingdom. It is no joke to connect a Tickle with More no's mysterious missives, but ticklish fingers guided the quill that indited the lately discovered diplo matic letters. The City of Nankin has conveyed him towards the "Golden Gate." His creditors mourn his departure. Intending Exhibitors at the International Exhibition to be held in Melbourne this year do no appear to have been lucky in their shipments. A majority of the American exhibits have been los through the total wreck of the vessel carrying them and a considerable instalment of the British exhibits was on board the Orient Company's Steamer Sorata when she ran aground on the Australian Coast.

ANOTHER CLAIMANT FOR THE KANAINA ESTATE .-We learn that J. N. Kaleohemahema has commenced suit to obtain possession of the Kanaina estate. He claims to be Kanaina's nephew and that he is able to furnish satisfactory reasons why he has been so tardy in preferring his claim. Our legal friends must have already done well out of this inheritance. New possibilities of appropriating the whole of the oyster now loom before them.

The Roman paper La Staffetta of 30th July copies the following from the Aurora of Modena :- " We have just learnt that our illustrious fellow-countrymen, Captain Celso C. Moreno has been nominated Governor of Buenos Avres. We congratulate our distinguished collaborator, that from among so many illustrious personages who aspired to this honor he, an talian, should be elected to undertake such a charge.

Several friends of Mr. T. McLellen, (the noted turfite who is at present in this city.) have had made a gold medal, and have presented it to him as a token of their appreciation of the nerve displayed by him in driving " home " almost on one wheel. in the second heat of the $1000 trotting race, which took place at Kapiolani Park on Sept. 11th. The medal is gold, and is valued at $50, and is engraved in an artistic and appropriate manner; the obverse side showing a picture of the incident referred to. and on the reverse, suitable inscriptions with the date of presentation.

Dr. Neilson, Medical Superintendent of the Leper Settlement, has laid before the Board of Health a valuable report on the condition of the unfortunates at Kalawao. There are now 605 lepers at the settlement. Some change in the alimentation of these people has been recommended-not a uniform beef and salmon diet. The late President of the Board of Health purchased of the Lanai Ranch 1000 head of sheep at two dollars a head; the skins being contracted for at twenty-five cents each, will reduce the cost to one dollar and seventy-five cents for good fat muttons; considerably less than what is paid in Honolulu by butchers for sheep.

There has been an expectation, perhaps baseless, that H. R. H. the Prince of Wales might pay us a flying visit during the excursion he has so long proposed to make. From a recent telegram to the Australian papers we learn that the people of Melbourne are to be disappointed in this matter, and we may therefore set aside any idea of seeing the heir to the throne of England and India here. The laconic announcement by cable gives the reason for this change of programme to be H. R. H.'s American engagements.

As we do not know the exact nature of these we cannot further explain the altered purpose.

Fire Marshal McGuire has issued a printed circular to owners and occupiers of property calling their attention to certain duties imposed upon them by the law which it is his function to enforce. It is the Fire Marshal's duty to inspect every tenement in the city twice in every year in order to see that the occupiers who use stoves have them fixed in accordance with the law on the subject, and that everyone has his fire buckets in order. Mr. Mo-Guire seems bent upon making a name for himself, and as a man who knows his duty and does it, and we hope all good citizens will assist him. Next to the sanitary precautions so much neglected here, precautions against fire are among the most important duties of the inhabitants of this inflammable town.

IS IT TO BE OUR FATE !- In the San Francisco Merchant of the 10th inst. we find the following ... It is one of the boasts of the Democratic Party that it has added in time past valuable territory to the domain of the United States. Seward and Alaska will ever be associated in history. And should the Hawaiian Islands ever become a State in this Union it will be due to the energy and fore-sight of a private citizen, a San Francisco manufacturer, and not of any member of Congress or Cabinet." To this we may add that should the fate of Alaska be meted to the Hawaiian Islands, the people of the country will no doubt be given up to the tender mercies of a few San Franciscans, just as the luckless inhabitants of the Fur territory have been. And from the class and style of territorial officers usually sent from Washington City through political "Good Lord deliver us!"

A son of Kalaela, Israel by name, and whose kleptomaniac propensities had brought him to grief, was brought before his Honor on the morning of the 28th, charged with the larceny of $113 bimetallic coin, the property of T. B. Tyler. The circumstances connected with the case are, are used to pack the manufactured sugar in, are that Mr. Tyler left his domicile, a cottage rented by a Mr. Woolmington, situated on Emma street, on the morning of the 25th, and did not return until the evening. On his return and upon entering the house, he found that a trunk belonging to Mr. Woolmington had been broken open and the contents disturbed, and further, that his own trans had met with a similar treatment, and also $23 in silver and $90 in gold had been abstracted therefrom. From information received. Deputy Marshal Dayton had Israel arrested, and found that be, Israel, had $85 in gold coin on his person, which could not be consistently accounted for, and he was charged with the robbery. Circumstantial evidence cumulated sufficiently to warrant his Honor in holding the accused for trial at the Sup-

We have received a circular letter from the Crustees of the Australian Museum (Sydney) in timating the proximate formation of a Technological Industrial and Sanitary Museum under their care, explaining the objects they have in view, and asking the assistance from all producers and manufacturers without which their own labors will be of little value. The circular is accompanied by a letter from the Acting Secretary of the proposed institution in which he enumerates the classes of exhibits sought. The Hawaiian Islands could furnish many series of exhibits which would be of great interest. For the information of any one who will be public spirited enemed to send executions of one product lic spirited enough to send specimens of our productor those which illustrate the ethnology of the country, we are requested to state that arrangements have been made with the Pacific Mail Co. by which anything for the Museum sent to their steamers will be taken forward, the charges being paid in Syd-ney. We think it might well be saked of these enterprising Trustees that they should promise some-thing more than free carriage as an inducement to secure exhibits. It would not be difficult to scoure for them a valuable series of exhibits of they will un-dertake to send in Exchange an equally valuable contribution to the Hawaiian Museum.

Meeting at Kaumakapili Church. One of those long-winded Portuguese-Chinese encounters which assist, to a great degree, in disturbing the peace of the community in proximity to the field of action, especially within hearing dising of the 25th inst., and culminated on the morning of the Sabbath by the linguists coming to blows. For the latter act the disputants, (the head cook, a Portuguese, and a Chinese yardman.) were arrested and brought before His Honor on the morning of the 28th. A charge was made against the cook of assault

but the evidence was very contradictory, as is usual in each cases, and might have placed His Honor i a quandary but for the able assistance rendered by an eloquent barrister in unraveling the mysterious maze and imperspicuity of the statements of the wit nesses. The legal gentleman, who defended the cook made a most eloquent peroration on the particular position occupied by cooks in general, as regarded the health and equanimity of the minds and bodie of the community at large. He said, that a cook especially an hotel cook, is a most important per sonage, and if by passing events, his mind is perturbed, there is no telling the calamities that might fall upon the community by the cook's inattention or neglect of his duties, and he shuddered to think of the possible amount of sickness and misery that might follow onward in the footsteps of that demon indigestion, superinduced by badly seasoned food

from the hands of a competent but bothered cook. Mr

Advocate also said that the brave cook was only de

When the announcement of the formation o the new Cabinet was made the first point in its Constitution, which attracted general attention, was the absence from it of any Minister of the native Hawaiian race. This departure prevailed from a custom which has throughout the present reign was naturally viewed with little favour by Hawaiians themselves. Discussion at street corners led to the desire for a meeting at which Hawaiian sentiment could find expression, and in the middle of the day, on Monday, placards were put out calling one for half-past 7 that evening in the Kaumakapili Church. At the appointed hour some hundreds of natives, and a strong detachment of foreigners gathered together. The Hon. Mr. Kaulukou was called to the chair. Mr. B W. Kawainui was elected Secretary and Mr. S. B. Dole, Interpreter.

The proceedings were initiated by Mr. John Sheldon, who in a speech notable for the moderation of its tone, moved the following resolution :-WHEREAS, it is just and proper for the benefit of His Majesty's own subjects to make plain to him their full confidence in him in his guardianship of his Kingdom, for the welfare and prosperity of the WHEREAS, on this morning, Sept. 27th, there was

Resolved: That a committee of thirteen be appointed to respectfully wait on His Majesty, and o inform him of the sentiments of his people

The resolution having been seconded by Mr. J. U. Kawainui, was warmly supported by Mr. John Kalama, who said he had only one fault to find with it, which was that the words, "or one," ought to have been omitted from that part of it which prayed the King to appoint native Hawaiians to Ministerial posts.

Mr. Hon. S. K. Kasi then addressed the meeting at great length urging that there had been so many changes of the Cabinet lately that it was undesirable in itself that further changes should be made. It was also, he considered undesirable in relation to certain business which had to be transacted of a delicate nature with Foreign Courts and because Moreno had gone away with such full authorities cabinets, and the country prospered, let us therefore hope that it will not suffer. Let us support the King in his present nominations and let us throw aside these resolutions for the present. I am against these continuous changes which have lately taken place as I do not consider they do our country any good. They remind me of the old adage that " a rolling stone gathers no moss" and if we would be prosperous peaceful and happy we must be in unison as natives with our native ruler." He moved that the consideration of the resolution be postponed indefinitely. D. Malo followed in support of the amendment

Mr. Cecil Brown spoke next supporting the amendment and Mr. J. H. Black commenced speech in which he denounced the Chinese as being at the bottom of " all our troubles " but was called to order by Mr. Justice Judd on the ground that he was wandering from the subject properly before the

The Hon. Mr. Kapena supported the resolution. He said that he had no idea of speaking at the meeting, but seeing that there had been remarks made against the resolution which were not fair, he thought he could not let them pass unanswered. He denied that there was anything objectionable in the resolution, its intentions were honest and harmless. It expressed what they all thought. "The house is ours and we are turned out of doors." It could certainly not be hurtful to pass such a resolution as this. How could be oppose such a resolution, believing as he did, and as every Hawaiian did, that they ought to be represented in the administration. The speaker was interrupted by Mr. Waterhouse. who asked him to compare his present views with those he had expressed in the same place a few weeks ago. Mr. Kapena replied with much warmth and force, that he was not in any way going back upon what he had previously said. The circumstances were totally distinct, general principles being now under consideration, whilst at the previous meeting they were discussing personal affairs and questioning the King's undoubted rights, because they dis liked certain individuals. He spoke for some time with much force, and was frequently and warmly applauded.

Mr. Justice Judd spoke next, urging the Hawaians present to accept Mr. Kaai's amendment. Some further discussion ensued, a good deal of which was of a conversational kind. Mr. Kani replied to Mr. Kapena, and Mr. Sheldon replied generally to the arguments which had been used against the resolution. He pointed out how the discussion had wandered away from the real merits of the resolution which was not of a character to embarrass the King. He also pointed out that if they should pass over the present occasion without making a protest, their mouths would be Louisa C. C. Brickwood et al vs. Ulu (k), ejectvery effectually shut up at any future time.

Mr. Kani's amendment was then put to the meeting. A majority of those who held up their hands in its favor were foreigners or sons of foreigners, whilst the contrary view was enthusiastically supported by nearly every native Hawaiian in the room. The original resolution was then put and carried almost unanimously.

The following were named a committee to pre-J. M. Kapena, J. Moanauti, W. Pinebasa Wood, D. Kahanu, J. U. Kawainui, J. L. Kaulukou, J. Keau, A. K. Kunujakea, Kabikina Kelekona, B. W. Kawainui, J. Kalama, S. W. Mabelona, F. Pabia.

The Committee of 18 appointed at this meeting was allowed an audience by His Majesty at 5 P. M on Tuesday. Hon. J. M. Kapena, the Chairman of the Committee addressed His Majesty as follows: "Sire,-On the evening of yesterday, a public meeting was held by Your own people at Kaumakapili Church, for the purpose of expressing their true sentiments regarding the course pursued by Your Majesty in conducting the Government in the past for the welfare of Your Majesty's people ; at which meeting, it was resolved, that a Committee of 18 be chosen to make known to Your Majesty such sentiments. We have the honor of being that Committee. and permit me Sire, on behalf of the native popula tion of this city, to read the preambles and resolutions passed at said meeting." The resolutions as given in our report of the meeting were then read

His Majesty replied-" Mr. Chairman and gentle men of the Committee,-I feel much gratified to note evidence among my own people of their interest in matters pertaining to the admistration of our Goverament. It is a matter of importance that equality should always rule in cases of Cabinet filling whenever it can be done. I take this to be a good step among my own people, and shall therefore take into careful consideration this prayer of theirs."

A Visit to the Queensland Government Sugarcane Nursery, near Indooroopilly.

[BY A SPECIAL REPORTER OF THE P. C. ADVERTISER.]

On the last day of August, 1880, being again on short stay at Brisbane, where I spent some time in 1862-5, on the staff of the North Australian, besides a few days' call in 1877, after my return to Australia from Honolulu, I took a walk from my quarters at the Sydney anti-toxi-potist Boardinghouse to the Brisbane Botanic Garden, where I had often whiled away an idle hour in past years. Some account of this Garden, with its rare bunya bunya trees, would, no doubt, be full of interest for your readers, who take part in botanical matters, but at present I do not propose to write any description of it, and shall merely state that my object in going to the Garden was principally to see an old acquaintance-the Director of the Brisbane Botanic Garden. Mr. Hill, whom I knew in former times here, and whose namesake (if not relative) I had the pleasure of meeting at Honolulu. During our conversation, while sitting in the Garden, I heard from Mr. Hill that this Government has a Sugarcane Nursery near this capital, so I arranged to accompany him accordingly, and now pen the result. The Nursery in question, Mr. Hill stated, was situated near a place known by its shoriginal name of Indooroopilly, which sounds almost as harmoniously as some of your own Hawaiian names. and it is given to a little station on the railway from Brisbane to Ipswich and the laterior of this colony, about half-a-dozen miles from this city. It was arranged that I should meet Mr. Hill at the City that he might be making new treaties or dissolving | Railway Terminus so as to take the 4.20 p.m. train old ones, in any country he visited. He begged them | to Indooroopilly-but "man proposes," you know, to let the King alone and not worry him with fur- and so it happened that I missed the train. What their deputations and petitions. "You say," he was to be done? I first inquired on the platform if proceeded, "that you want mixed cabinets, and Mr. Hill had been seen going off by that train, and think that a cabinet composed entirely of foreigners | got an affirmative answer; I then asked about the will injure the country. You are wrong; in old next train, and was told that it would not leave for times, during the Kamehamehas, we had all white a full hour or more, and ultimately; not being the most patient of mortals. I started off on foot by the road to Indooroopilly, resolved to walk on to the first or second station, and let the next train overtake me. This arrangement gave me an opportunity of seeing something of the suburban localities, which are really very picturesque on the north bank of the Brisbane River. About a mile out I came to the little station of Milton, and finding that I had forty minutes to wait for the train, I decided to go on still on foot to the next station at Towong-another aboriginal name-about as far off again : I followed road which first passed under the railway, and then brought me down to the river-side, which it next followed as far as Towong, some nice suburban villas jotting the banks of the lordly stream as I walked along, while South Brisbane was scattered over a large area on the opposite side. I reached Powong a few minutes before the train came up, and had only time to catch a glimpse of a nice hamlet and one pretty maid, at least, a circumstance which always adds, I think, to the romance of a landscape. I supplied myselt with a first-class return ticket between Towong and Indooroopilly, besides a continuation to the city, at a cost of 1s. 3d. There was still clear daylight enough to enjoy the passing forest panorama displayed by Dame Nature as the train rolled on to Indooroopilly, which I reached shortly before sunset, my first inquiry being for Mr. Hill, who, I was told, had gone over to the Nursery. I at once walked off in the direction indicated. having to cross the Brisbane River by a sideway for pedestrians on the railway bridge-a remarkable work of engineering skill. I had not got over half the bridge when I met Mr. Hill returning, and, after a few words explaining my regret at the disappointment caused by my losing the train, it was agreed that Mr. Hill would walk back with me to the Nursery, about a quarter of a mile off, just to allow me an opportunity of having at least one glimpse of the sugarcanes, and sucking a piece if there was not light enough to see them. Fortunately, we had at least ten minutes' good twilight after we got to the sugarcanes, whose sight recalled my pleasant rides with the "Royal Commissioners" on Hawaii, in 1877; and, to make the memory still more vivid, Mr. Hill cut a cane and gave me a piece to suck, which he said was grown from cuttings sent from Lahaina from my old friend the Royal Commissioner, Mr. Mackay's plantation ; I also sucked some pieces of canes grown from Java and Mauritius cuttingsand, I may add, that Mr. Hill stated that he had as many as seventy two varieties of sugarcanes in the Nursery. He has kindly promised me some notes, which I shall forward herewith. I must not forget to add that the caretaker of the Nursery was a son of the Emerald Isle, rejoicing in the apetizing name of Murphy. I also saw at the Nursery 30,000 cedar plants of about ten months' growth, which Mr. Hill distributes to all who desire the same. The little cedars of Indooroopilly may one day rival their kinsfolk of Lebanon ; but it will take time-like ourselves when babies. It was just dark night when Mr. Hill and your correspondent reached the Indoo roopilly hostlery, where "mine hostess" had prepared some ten and fresh boiled eggs, a couple of which, with as many cups of the aromatic immersion and slices of butter-brod, Y. C., stowed away in the " pantry," describing at intervals in the course of the necessary mustication, the conflagration of Honosent the resolution to His Majesty, viz: Messrs, lulu, in 1877, including some allusions to the previous bonfires at San Francisco, and speculations on the late blazes in Sydney and other Australian towns, with a glance at the doings of Nihilists, and an inference that the world was going to be burned down, causing some sensation amongst a few Goths present. A run for the railway station in the pitchy darkness fortunately was attended with no ractures, and we both rushed headlong into-worse than the cannon's mouth for Lie-a smoking saloon carriage : but by opening a window and sticking out my head, to the great risk of its being chopped off at the bridges en route, I contrived to survive till our train reached the Brisbance terminus, after which a walk across the city brought us to a point where our paths in life parted, as must always happen even to the best friends everywhere on life's pilgrimage. In the course of conversation, Mr. Hill spoke of his satisfaction at having Mr. Turton and other centlemen of the Isles in the list of his correspondents Thus ended a pleasant excursion to the S Nursery of Indooroopilly-somewhat recalling our trip with His Hawsiian Majesty's brother-in-law. Mr. Cleghorn to Waikiki of old Hill MACDONNELL.

P.S.-I follow the plan of the loveller sex in putting the pith of the news after eignature, so I may state that, having been disappointed in going with the Vega, on the Arctic exploration, I amnow in hopes that I may be allowed by H. I. M. to accompany Captain Bove next year in the Umberto, on the proposed Antarctic explaration, as. diarist, and, meanwhile, I am thinking of going on, to China, Japan, and East Stheria-and perhaps. shake hands with old friends at Hopofulu.
